ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST CHURCH, LILLY P. O.

HARRISON TOWNSHIP, SCIOTO COUNTY, OHIO

1860 - 1924

Plat of the property of St. John's, Lilly,
Harrison township, Scioto county, Ohio,
from the Parish Plat Book of the 1880's, Columbus Diocese Archives.

At a time when tension over the slavery question was at such a pitch that it would soon erupt into Civil War; and when the young Father Sylvester Rosecrans, back from Rome with a doctorate in theology, was writing in the Catholic Telegraph of Cincinnati in favor of freedom for the slaves, John Baptist Purcell, archbishop of Cincinnati, bought a three-acre tract on the eastern border of Harrison township in Scioto county, Ohio. The property was to be the site of a church to serve the Catholic farmers and clay mine workers of the area. It would not be many years later (1868) that young Doctor Rosecrans, now first bishop of the diocese of Columbus, would be confirming members of the congregation being formed in the Harrison township area.

Bishop Hartley wrote in his history (1) of the diocese of Columbus: "On account of the many Catholic men employed in the clay mines near Gephart Station (2), three acres of land were donated in 1858 by Mr. Dill of Lilly, for the purpose of erecting a Catholic church, and was named by the Rt. Rev. Bishop, St. John." It was later listed as St. John's, Lilly P.O. Evans, in his history (3) of Scioto county, gives the title of the church as St. John the Baptist.

The property was actually transferred by a Deed under date of Dec. 17, 1860 (4). The document states that Philip Dill and his wife Mary Anna Dill, of Harrison rownship, for the sum of forty dollars paid by the Most Rev. John B. Purcell, archbishop of the archdiocese of Cincinnati, transferred to him three acres described as lying in Harrison twonship having its eastern boundary the western border line of Bloom township.

The property was located in the area through which flows what is known as the Little Scioto river. Hence, the parish was sometimes referred to as St. John's, Little Scioto. It was also referred to as the church on "Tick Ridge", which is still the name of the road which serves the property.

St. John's was about ten miles northeast of the city of Portsmouth where the first parish was organized in 1842 by Father J. O'Mealy. The next year he recorded a baptism at Little Scioto. Under date of July 3, 1843, he wrote that he baptised Henry, son of Joseph Nagle and Mary Eidle at Little Scioto. The sponsors were Xavier Sheppard and Mary Legler. The name of the first church in Portsmouth was Nativity Church. A few years later it was replaced by the present St. Mary's. It was doubtless that from this parish priests took care of the Catholics at Lilly until they became strong enough to have their own pastor.

In 1846 Father Emmanuel Thienpont registered at St. Mary's the following baptisms of Little Scioto:

1846, Feb. 10: Conrad, son of Joseph Rubrecht and Magdalene Omenan. Sponsors: Andrew Rubrecht and Barbara Rubrecht.

Same Day: Mary, daughter of Anthony Falter and Anna Maline. Sponsors: Charles West and Mary Bender.

1846, March 29: Henry, son of Louis Birkendalle and Frances Black. Sponsors: Peter Joseph Genkler and Christina Genkler.

1846, May 21: John, son of Xavier Sheppard and Mary Josephine Swind. Sponsors: George Legler and Mary Anna Seidler.

1846, Aug. 1: Mary, daughter of Wolforde Ritter and Barbara Backmeyne. Sponsors: Gabriel and Mary Krausser.

On July 7, 1861, Father James J. O'Donohoe, of Holy Redeemer church, Portsmouth, recorded the baptism at Little Scioto of James, b. in January 1861, son of Robert Alexander and Helen Henan.

The Catholic people of Little Scioto became a parish with the erection of a church in 1861. "The Catholic people who lived at Harrison, Scioto and Bloom Furnaces, with Father Karge (5) of Portsmouth as pastor, in 1861, built a frame church costing $800.00. It was located on Tick Ridge on the farm of Mr. Philip Dill. Ten years after, a parsonage was built beside the church. The members of the building committee were Xavier Sheppard, Benedict Seidel, Lawrence Cordell and Joseph Spitznagel" (6).

The first resident pastor was Father Louis Schreiber (7). He probably came to his post in 1872. A book of records of baptisms was started in 1873. Priests in charge of St. John's during the following years were Father Albert (8), 1873; Father L. Neumayer (9), 1874; Father P. J. Weisenberger (10), 1876; Father Philip Kuemmert (11), 1878, and Father P. F. Thurheimer (12), 1879.

Sometime during these years the pastor moved over to St. Peter's on the Sugar camp road, and served both churches from there. The clay mines had become exhausted and the number of parishioners became less and less. As Bishop Hartley wrote (13): "This congregation, mostly clay miners and farmers, was formerly a large one, and supported a resident pastor, but as the clay mines became exhausted and the miners moved away, this once large congregation dwindled down to only five families, and the spiritual wants of these few remaining people were looked after by the pastor of St. Peter's Church, Wheelersburg."

Father John B. Ritter (14) became pastor of St. Peter's in March, 1880, and St. John's was served as a mission, with the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass being celebrated every second Sunday. In 1899 Father Joseph M. Wehrle (15) came to St. Peter's, and he also served St. John's.

During the time that Father Goebel (16) served both parishes, 1894 to 1901, the interior of the church was frescoed and new altars installed. From 1901 to 1903 Father James T. Banahan (17) was pastor. Later Father Carey (18) became pastor and he made the trip to St. John's by horse drawn buggy, with Lou Miller doing the driving.

The church was twice struck by lightning and during the summer of 1907 was burned to the ground. Not to give up, the people built another frame church, but it was not as well constructed as the first and had to be torn down in 1924 because it was not able to withstand the force of the wind storms. It gradually began to lean so much that it became a threat to anyone using it, and for the sake of protection, it was torn down. Since that time there has been no church at Lilly near Gephart Station. The people were now all attending St. Peter's, Wheelersburg.

Three young girls of St. John's entered the convent. Wilhemena Feist entered the convent of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sick Poor in 1884. Elisabeth Feist went to the Franciscan Sisters of Christian Charity in 1885. Wilhemena Seidel became Sister Clementine of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth in Kentucky.
